spreading their hope to others. Along with the six main characters, you will also find the illustrated characters of 'Hope' and 'Germ' who add a comedic twist. Armand Doucet and Elisa Guerra, as globally recognized and award-winning teachers, saw the impact of school closures on children around the world and wanted to help change the narrative and give children and families hope. They collaborated to write a children ' s book " Hope, Where Are You? " illustrated by Ana Ragu (Elisa ' s daughter). Numerous other volunteer educators from around the world have also joined the project to help translate the text and promote the key messages of hope. The book is written by volunteers, illustrated by volunteers and has been translated by volunteers into over 30 different the Dominican Republic. But this time, on the day when his plane is supposed to land, Camino arrives at the airport to see crowds of crying people. . . In New York City, Yahaira Rios is called to the principal ' s office, where her mother is waiting to tell her that her father, her hero, has died in a plane crash. Separated by distance—and Papi ' s secrets—the two girls are forced to face a new reality in which their father is dead and their lives are forever altered. And then, when it seems like they ' ve lost everything of their father, they learn of each other. Great for summer reading or anytime!
